

Not quite bone dry, but definitely not sweet. This will be your new summer white—alone or with food, your friends will be clamoring for more. Bottled under screwcap for easy opening (not to mention freshness), this wine cries out for Asian food and spicy curries. It is highly aromatic with classic lychee fruit and rose petals, and fresh minerality to lengthen the finish. The vibrant acidity will stand up to any oily food as well. This doesn't mean you can't drink alone either! It is “ ” in a glass. Less than 500 cases made, and a screaming deal. If you have your wits about you, you'll order it by the case.
