

Many of you know of my love of Cabernet Franc and fortunately, so do my partners. In our opinion, it is the most underrated grape in Washington State. For this blend, it brings those amazing herbal, spicy notes to the nose, reminiscent of the pipe tobacco my grandfather used to smoke. The Sangiovese offers up some distinctive strawberry notes and the Cabernet Sauvignon gives the wine its structure and length and intensifies the red fruit profile. We bottled this under screwcap as well, and think it just might be the best everyday drinking red out there...I am NOT a bit biased! A hint of oak for intrigue, and only 13.9% alcohol...from me, can you believe it? Snap it up and serve it with homemade pizzas (okay, if you don't have your own pizza oven you can order delivery) or BBQ pork ribs, or throw a couple steaks on the barbeque and enjoy (I like mine medium rare—thanks for asking). Roughly 1,000 cases give or take a few (what? us taking a few for ourselves?). You'll soon find it at some great restaurants in Seattle, Portland, Boise, Atlanta, and Billings as well, so ask for a glass if you see it!
