

2014 Sleight Of Hand The Archimage

The 2014 The Archimage checks in as a blend of close to an even split of Cabernet Franc and Merlot. It has a complex, nuanced bouquet of ripe black fruits, charcoal, smoke tobacco and licorice. This gives way to a medium to full-bodied, supple, pure and polished red that's impeccably balanced and shines for its drinkability. It drops away on the finish more than expected, but is still a beautiful wine.

- Jeb Dunnuck (May, 2017)